DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: page 6, line 12, "2" should be -1--; and page 6, line 30, "thud" should be -the--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1, lines 3-4 and claim 7, line 3, "or the like" is vague as is the term "so-called" in line 6 of claim 1. Also in claim 4, lines 4-5 and claim 7, line 5, "the loading actuators", and claim 7, line 2, "the locking jaws" and line 3, "the pivotable guide jaws" and "the reeling carriages" all are without antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

(f) he did not himself invent the subject matter sought to be patented.

5. Claims 1, 4-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Malkki et al. See the paragraph beginning on line 26 of col. 5 wherein the force due to the cylinders 17, 19 is reduced to zero at the same time that the force due to cylinders 18 are increased to provide a total force value which is linear during the exchange step between the loading jaws 14-16 and the jaws 13.

6. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tuominen et al. See col. 8, lines 14-30 of Tuominen et al.

The applied reference has (apparently) a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

7. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) because the applicant did not invent the claimed subject matter. The patent to Tuominen et al has no common inventors with the present application and is therefore evidence that the present applicants did not invent the claimed subject matter.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Olsson is cited to show another surface winder in which the forces of the primary and secondary jaws or arms are increased and decreased at the same time during transfer of the roll.
